MASTER OF ARTS IN TEACHING ENGLISH AS A FOREIGN LANGUAGE (MA in TEFL)

ABOUT THE PROGRAM

The MA in TEFL at Pontificia Universidad Católica Madre y Maestra (PUCMM) is a theory and practice-oriented program based on recognition of the need for qualified teachers trained in an interactive and participatory model for teaching English as a foreign language. This program is built around the need to support national education in order to prepare teachers in both of these areas, allowing them to improve the teaching and learning of English as a foreign language. By offering this degree, we will have a group of qualified educators teaching English in the near future.

PROGRAM STRUCTURE

The Master of Arts in Teaching English As A Foreign Language (MA in TEFL) Program is divided into five (5) academic terms equivalent to one (1) year and eight (8) months, and a total of 42 academic credits. The courses that make up the study plan will be taught on site and on-line.

Campus: Santiago (CSTI) and Santo Domingo (CSTA)

COURSES

The courses aim to:

- Strengthen participants' theoretical and practical bases that support current approaches to teaching English as a foreign language.
- Encourage participants to apply the resources offered by technology in the field of teaching English as a foreign language and to integrate them into the teaching-learning process.
- Extend participants' understandings of the linguistic, cultural, and communicative dimensions of English.

cultural, and communicative dimensions of English.

- Enable participants to analyze and interpret research related to teaching English as a foreign language in order to inform their own practice.
- Enable participants to develop educational research skills that will allow them to plan and conduct their own research.
- Enable participants to explain the principles underpinning their teaching paradigm with the teaching strategies used in their classes.
- Motivate participants to take responsibility for their educational and professional development and to continue learning throughout their lives.
